

St. Anthony Sea Foods

Quality Assurance Manager

St. Anthony Sea Foods, a leading processor in the Newfoundland seafood industry, is looking for a Quality Assurance Manager to join our team located in St. Anthony, NL.

To be successful in the Quality Assurance role, you should have the ability to work independently, have proven time management skills be detail oriented and work well under pressure. If you are highly organized, flexible to changing priorities have strong computer skills, with experience in the food industry, preferably in seafood, and are willing to be trained; then we want to hear from you.

The Quality Assurance Manager's role consists of:

- Leading development and maintenance of food safety and quality management program.
- Advising management on regulatory, customer and HACCP compliance on an on-going basis.
- Developing and maintaining documentation.
- Participating in various audits such as BRC, CFIA with regulatory authorities, certification bodies, customers, etc.
- Remaining current with legislation and customer requirements
- Ensuring sanitation practices comply and meet all expectations.
- Liaising with the local management team, corporate personnel, regulatory authorities, personnel at other processing facilities and other third-party contacts.
- Reviewing, investigating and responding to customer inquiries and complaints.
- Conducting training necessary to implement and maintain food safety and quality assurance program.

Position Qualifications:

- A background in Food Science or Food Technology
- Strong technical background
- Experience in CFIA, BRC audits would be considered an asset
- Excellent communication and leadership skills
- Goal oriented and a strong work ethic

The successful applicant will be required to work flexible hours with the possibility of overtime as required.

If you wish to be a part of an organization and corporate culture that encourages success, please submit your detailed resume to subo@royalgreenland.com referencing Quality Assurance Manager – St. Anthony.

We thank you all for your interest but only those candidates who are selected for an interview will be contacted.

St. Anthony Sea Foods is an equal opportunity employer