SUPPLEMENTARY EXAMINATION REGULATIONS

Marine Institute Supplementary Examination Regulations apply to students in Advanced Diploma (one year), Diploma of Technology (three years), Technician Diploma (two years), and Vocational Certificate (one year) programmes. Students must apply for Supplementary Examinations.

1. The privilege of writing supplementary examinations is limited to students who:
   (a) Have failed no more than two subjects;
   (b) Have obtained at least 70% of the specified passing grade in each subject failed;
   (c) Have obtained a term or session average of at least 55%;
   (d) Were registered on a full-time basis for the period of study in question.

2. Only one attempt to write a supplementary examination will be permitted in each subject allowed under these regulations.

3. Students are permitted to write a maximum of two supplementary examinations for the duration of their enrolment in a programme. Once a student has written two supplementary examinations, he/she must repeat any failed courses in order to earn credit for these courses.

4. Any student who has failed to complete laboratory work, workshop, or drawing work to the satisfaction of the School, is ineligible for supplementary examinations.

5. Applications for Supplementary Examinations are to be filed at the Registrar's Office no later than five (5) business days after the release of grades by the Registrar's Office. The date of official release of grades for this purpose is the day that grades are issued and mailed by the Institute.

6. The prescribed fee must accompany the application, which is not refundable.

7. Supplementary examinations are written before or at the beginning of the next academic semester or session.
   - For examinations written in April, supplementary exams will be scheduled in April or May.
   - For examinations written in May, supplementary exams will be scheduled in June or September.
   - For examinations written in December, supplementary examinations will be scheduled in January.

8. Supplementary exams must be written during the exam period scheduled for the course in question. A student who otherwise has all of his/her programme requirements completed may have up to two years following completion of the course in question to write the supplementary examination. The application for a supplementary exam must be filed within the normal application period as specified above.

9. Failure to write a scheduled supplementary examination without prior written notice satisfactory to the Registrar will result in a grade of 0% for the exam portion of the course. The grade for a course for which a student failed to write a scheduled supplementary exam will be denoted with an NF (No Final) on the student’s transcript.

10. A Supplementary exam cannot be written for a course in which a student has received a reduction of any portion of the course grade as a result of academic Misconduct.

11. For the purposes of calculating a student's final grade, the grade obtained in a supplementary examination replaces the grade earned for the original examination for the calculation of the final course mark.

12. The maximum grade for a course in which a supplementary examination has been written is the passing grade for the course.

13. The grade for a course in which a supplementary exam has been written is denoted on a student’s transcript with the grade type SP.
